REPORT OF BOARD OF MISSIONS

Facing the stern fact of reduced resources and the urgent appeals that have come up from all the districts, your Board of Missions has given long and painstaking consideration to the responsibilities with which you have charged it. We are aware of the pressing needs of many of our preachers in the North Carolina Conference and also those in the various mission fields in which our great church is operating. Although we have not been able to meet these needs adequately, we are grateful for the spirit of heroism manifested by our pastors in a willingness to share deprivations necessitated by present conditions, and we commend most highly the congregations who have given sacrificially during the year just closed that the church might carry on its work effectively.

We urge all preachers and laymen to stand loyally by the enterprises of the church, to use wisdom and diligence in its financial support, and to lay especial emphasis upon the cultivation of the spiritual life of all our people.

We call attention to the advisability of celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Paine College, and to the splendid achievements of one hundred years of Methodist missions since the going of Melville B. Cox, November 1, 1832, as the first foreign missionary of the Methodist Church to distant parts.

We note with gratefulness that the Duke Endowment has, during the past year, made seventy-eight appropriations to the support of the rural ministry of North Carolina amounting to $25,900.

We hope that the Committee of the Sunday School Extension and Rural Church will continue to render needed services to the rural churches of our Conference.

We recommend that W. V. McRae be asked to raise in our churches the sum of $400.00 for the support of the chaplain at Oteen; and that F. S. Love be appointed Conference Missionary Secretary.

We recommend the confirmation of M. T. Plyler and J. C. Wooten as members of the Board of Managers of the Pastors' School to succeed themselves.

We suggest the following:

REPORT NO. 1—BOARD OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

We are happy to report noteworthy progress along many lines of our program during this year. Seen in the light of conditions in which we have worked, and considered as an educational enterprise of major proportions which, like all education, is a gradual and often slow process, our record indicates that the North Carolina Conference is moving in the direction of a unified program of Christian education in keeping with the legislation enacted by the General Conference of 1930.

Our board reports the reduction of its staff in June by the discontinuance of its office secretary. We are mindful of the increase in work which thus comes to our Executive Secretary, Mr. L. L. Gobbel, and to our Extension Secretary, Mrs. Blanche Barringer Brian, and we record our appreciation of their willingness to absorb this added responsibility. We would also record our appreciation of the services of the young men from the Duke School of Religion.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. We recommend that immediately after Conference the Presiding Elders, in collaboration with the Conference staff, proceed to set up a program and organization of Christian education in each district.

2. In view of the vital importance of organization in the program of the local church, we recommend continued attention to the setting up and functioning of local boards of Christian education.

3. We recommend vacation sessions, the observance of Childhood and Youth Week, and the plan for a volunteer district director of children's work in every district. We look forward to the time when we shall find it possible to have a Conference Director of Children's Work.

4. We recommend the continuance of district and group meetings of young people and suggest that similar meetings of children's and adult workers and administration officers be held wherever practicable, to deal directly with immediate problems involved in furthering the program of Christian education in the local church.

5. We are convinced of the value of our summer assemblies and recommend the holding of a Young People's Assembly and a Christian Adventure Assembly.

6. We recommend that district-wide surveys be made to discover unchurched people and neglected areas and to ascertain where new schools should be organized and abandoned schools revived.

7. We recommend that Conference and district staffs give attention to the enlistment of as many churches as possible in the support of the Home and Foreign Missionary Enterprise.

8. We recommend the observance of special days as set forth in the Discipline: i. e., (a) Sunday School Day; (b) College Day; (c) Young People's Day; (d) World Temperance Sunday and Prohibition Day; (e) monthly Missionary Day—and call upon pastors and others in authority to see to it that offerings taken on these days be remitted as required by the Discipline.

9. We call attention to the fact that a trained leadership was never more urgent than now and recommend that wide use be made of correspondence courses, institutes, and local training classes, and that Cokesbury and Standard Training Schools be held wherever practicable.

10. We recommend the use of our own periodical literature and urge upon workers in local churches the taking of available courses in lesson materials.

11. We recommend a renewed emphasis upon temperance education in our church schools, and we urge that our young people and adults make effective their organizations in the support of the 18th amendment and law enforcement.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

Believing that undergraduate courses in the Bible and religious education lay the foundation for effective service in the local churches, your board suggests that our educational institutions seriously consider the desirability of offering additional religious education courses for undergraduates.

LOUISBURG COLLEGE

Louisburg is now well upon its second year as a co-educational junior college with a considerable increase in students over the past year. With a firm belief in the future of the institution and with a resolute determination to keep the college a going concern, Reverend A. D. Wilcox is giving of his best in time, thought, and energy.

Unalterably opposing any high pressure campaign for funds, this board looks with favor upon the request of the Board of Trustees of Louisburg College asking permission of the North Carolina Conference for President Wilcox to make personal visitation to the various churches of the Conference, where such visitation may be satisfactory to such churches, for the presentation of the work of the college and its financial needs; provided, however, that any solicitation of funds for the college be made only through private approach.

GREENSBORO COLLEGE

Greensboro College goes ahead with her accustomed high grade work even in the face of extremely difficult circumstances. In order that Greensboro may move forward with her splendid enterprises not too greatly hampered, we recommend that the college be granted the privilege of borrowing a sum not exceeding $50,000, and that this sum be secured by a deed of trust on the college property in accordance with action taken by the Board of Trustees of Greensboro College on October 11, 1932.

The Board of Christian Education, having received from W. W. Peele, president of the Board of Christian Education of the Western North Carolina Conference, a communication stating that at the session of the Western North Carolina Conference, held at Winston-Salem, action was taken by this Conference looking to the merging of Greensboro College, owned jointly by the two Conferences, and Davenport College, owned by the Western North Carolina Conference, this board recommends to the Conference that it approve the proposed merger of the two institutions.

DUKE UNIVERSITY

With aspirations to be a national rather than a sectional institution, Duke University has been launched not only as an educational adventure but as a social experiment of far-reaching significance.

Indebted to the visionful philanthropy of Mr. James B. Duke for its very existence, Duke University is abandoned to the task of training preachers, lawyers, and physicians, and to instruction in chemistry, economics, and history. Through devotion to this two-fold sacred trust, the University will continue to contribute conspicuously to the uplift of mankind and "help to develop our resources, increase our wisdom, and promote human happiness."

APPOINTMENTS

We recommend the following appointments:

Professors in Duke University—H. E. Spence, J. M. Ormond, H. E. Myers.

President Louisburg College—A. D. Wilcox.

President Scarritt College for Christian Workers, Nashville, Tenn.—J. L. Cuninggim.

Students in Duke University—J. L. Joyce, C. R. Goldston.

We recommend the confirmation of E. C. Few as member of the Board of Managers of the Pastors' School to succeed himself, and J. M. Ormond to fill vacancy caused by the death of Dr. H. M. North.

We recommend the confirmation of the following persons as Trustees of Greensboro College: Reverend G. T. Adams, to succeed himself, and Dr. R. L. Flowers, to succeed Reverend W. B. North, deceased.

We recommend the confirmation of the following Trustees of Louisburg College: Miss Amma Graham, Reverend E. H. Davis, W. L. Knight, and W. E. White, to succeed themselves; Reverend W. V. McRae, with term expiring December, 1935; Reverend W. A. Cade, with term expiring 1934; and Reverend E. J. Rees, Reverend G. W. Perry, and Gurney P. Hood, with terms expiring 1933.

L. L. Gobbel is continued as Executive Secretary at a salary of $3,600. Mrs. Blanche Barringer Brian is continued as Extension Secretary and Director of Young People's Work at a salary of $1,800.

(By amendment the salary of L. L. Gobbel was changed from $3,600 to $3,000 and Mrs. Blanche Barringer Brian's salary from $1,800 to $1,500).

We announce the appointment of an Inter-Conference Educational Commission consisting of W. A. Stanbury, E. C. Few, and R. L. Flowers, whose duty it shall be, in the name and with the authority of this Conference, to co-operate with a similar commission of the Western North Carolina Conference in perfecting details of the proposed merger of Greensboro and Davenport Colleges, so far as this merger affects the interests of this Conference in Greensboro College.

REPORT OF BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION

Your Board of Church Extension submits the following report:

Owing to the reduction of assessments to Church Extension, and further owing to the reduced receipts for this cause in the Conference, the board found it impossible to grant further aid.

In order to keep faith with the other boards it was ordered that we pay $1,000 to Chapel Hill Church and $500 to College Place Church, subject to the same scale which has applied to all other grants which have been made this year on other applications. Other grants which were previously made and for which money has not been available are continued and will be paid if, and when, the money is available.

It is the desire of the board that a more equitable apportionment of the Conference funds should be allotted to extension work, as it is manifest that to maintain the work successfully on the weaker charges, we must have church buildings adequate for the purpose, and also a parsonage home in which the preacher and his family can live in some degree of comfort; otherwise such charges can never become self-supporting. We believe that so long as such charges are not thus provided for, they will remain as a drain upon the Board of Missions.

Your board in session, therefore, memorializes the Commission on Budget to provide a ten per cent allowance from the Conference funds instead of the 7.56% as previously allowed. We also insist that all pastors present at some time during the year the Cause of Church Extension to their congregations.

Many congregations are embarrassed by debts previously contracted when conditions were more favorable, but which would not now be so embarrassing if the law of the church had been observed, requiring that three-fourths of the entire cost of construction be procured before construction begins. In many cases the debts of these churches, which have not observed this law, are now distressed with over-due mortgages in banks and insurance companies, who are now threatening foreclosure.

We further call the attention of the Conference to the law that where either a grant or a donation is made, a bond is required which must be duly registered in the county where the building is located, which constitutes a first mortgage in case of any other foreclosure, thus conserving the sacred funds of the board.

We are grateful to the Duke Fund Commission for their aid in building churches in country places and in support of preachers in these restricted sections. This Commission has expended this year, in the two conferences of our church in North Carolina, $34,805.00. This sum was divided among the causes of church extension, maintenance of rural churches and the support of superannuates.

All conditional grants for the new Conference year were left in the hands of the Executive Committee to be met if and when the money is available.

We call attention to the action of the General Board in placing an architect with the Duke Commission so that any pastor of our charge desiring to erect a church building can obtain expert advice and aid at the lowest cost.

MARVIN Y. SELF, Secretary.

REPORT OF BOARD OF CHRISTIAN LITERATURE

The Auditor's Report of the financial condition of the North Carolina Christian Advocate shows a total income for the current year of $47,066.35. The expenses amount to $46,918.03. This gives a profit of $148.32 for the year.

The audit discloses a reduced income of $3,019.91 over that of last year, and the expenses are reduced $10,188.85. Most of this results from a reduction in cost of paper and by reduction in salaries and wages. The most rigid economy has been practiced and every effort possible made to keep the volume of business at a maximum.

Diligence and the finest co-operation has been shown by the entire force in the office and in the shop. Only by persistent efforts here and in the field has the management been able to make so favorable a showing with the reduced income on subscriptions and advertising and in the job department. The editors have traveled thousands of miles in the two Conferences in an effort to keep the paper before the people, and they have done the best they knew to make a paper that would stimulate the preachers and encourage the laymen in a common effort to advance every interest of the Methodist Church. More than this: they have rendered a service for the common good by promoting the causes that make for civic righteousness, moral betterment and spiritual uplift. Into this effort has gone weariness of body and anxiety of soul.

The following resolution was approved by this board:

The Board of Publication, Inc., hereby approves the intelligent and courageous attitude of the editors of the Advocate upon the great moral questions of the day.

The board recognized the need for special effort on the part of all this year in turning business to our own house and promoting the North Carolina Christian Advocate. We offer the following suggestions for the consideration of the Conferences:

1. That the pastors, as authorized agents for the Advocate, do all possible to collect renewals and to secure new subscribers.
2. That the laymen in each district secure at least 100 new subscribers to this, our church paper.
3. That the women of the missionary societies secure at least 100 new subscribers in each district. Each of these groups shall determine the methods to be used.

An unrelenting effort in pulpit, in group meetings and in the several Conferences should be made until our church becomes Advocate-minded; then, the paper will be looked upon as an essential in the work of the church. Let us increase the number who cannot get on without their church paper.

Rev. A. J. Hobbs, Jr., was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. M. Bradshaw.

W. P. Few is nominated to succeed himself as a member of this board.

We recommend the re-appointment of Dr. M. T. Plyler as editor of the North Carolina Christian Advocate.

ED J. REES, Secretary.

REPORT AND ACTION ON REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE AND SOCIAL SERVICE

We reaffirm our belief that the vision of World Peace, that cheered war-weary people when Woodrow Wilson returned to America in 1919 with the Covenant of the League of Nations, is capable of realization. It is our conviction that failure in the days succeeding the World War to follow the leadership of Woodrow Wilson and William Howard Taft and Herbert Hoover and Franklin Roosevelt in their advocacy of entrance into the World Court and the League of Nations when they were organized has cost our own country moral and economic leadership. It has also been a large contributing factor toward delaying the return of prosperity and peace throughout the world.

We declare our faith in the League of Nations and the World Court, our devotion to peace, and our insistence that this country shall find a way to give full co-operation to all peace-loving and forward-looking nations seeking to find a workable substitute for wars of all kind, in the economic world as well as on the field of battle.

AID TO THE SUFFERERS

Just as it is true that if a man will not work neither shall he eat, so it is fundamental in a government based upon the weal of all the people that a willing worker has a right to expect opportunity to earn his bread in the sweat of his brow. This denied, what to the jobless man is the guarantee in the Declaration of Independence and the bill of rights and the pledge of equality and brotherhood? The old social order, which has produced fortunes running into the billions, has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. When a few thousand receive larger incomes than all the growers of wheat and cotton, and when barns and granaries overflow in one section while starving stomachs are empty in a nearby city, can we not see the coming of the time when "wealth accumulates and men decay?"

The substitute for capitalism is not to tear down the underlying principles of individual reward for invention and industry or to weaken the rights of private property. It is to substitute the capitalism that has brought about the ills described with Christian capitalism or Christian socialism. * * * Therefore, the command of Christ, more important in these difficult days than in other times, is to care for the widow and the orphan and to press for economic justice and an economic system that will result in a fair return for a fair day's work for all willing workers and just reward for those who think and those who labor. With a better economic system is wrapped up the shorter working day, unemployment insurance, provision for old age, the right of labor to organize and to bargain collectively, and the prevention of lockouts and strikes.

INTER-RACIAL RELATIONS

The growing understanding and friendly relations between the races have been strengthened by mutual bearing of the burdens of depression. Living together in the helpful and sympathetic spirit of Christianity, there should be ever increasing desire on the part of those better circumstanced in property and education to give counsel and aid to the negroes in our midst. North Carolina stands high in its education and religious opportunities for both races, and such facilities should be preserved and improved. The work of the Inter-racial Commission, fathered by wise men of both races, deserves commendation and co-operation.

Protection of the weak, observance of law, just execution of the statutes without discrimination, and regard for the rights and feelings of the Anglo-Saxon and the negro is necessary for the best weal of both and for the whole commonwealth. It is a matter of gratification, honorable alike to both races, that the escutcheon of North Carolina has, for ten years, been stained by only one lynching.

THE FOE OF INTEMPERANCE

The Methodist Church from its birth has realized that drink is the worst foe of the home and the church. "Were it in my power," said John Wesley, "I would banish distilled liquors out of the world." In the conflict against the saloon and the still, beginning with the township and ending with the Republic, the people called Methodists have borne their part with other devotees of temperance. They hailed the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment as the most far reaching step toward making this a sober nation.

The possibility of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the modification of the Volstead Act have largely grown out of the failure to enforce the law and the widespread and flagrant illegal use of intoxicants by those who ought to have given it observance. National prohibition has never had a fair trial except in the first two years of its operation when it proved its virtues. Even with the lapses that have grieved all its advocates, who sought in vain to secure its full observance and enforcement, national prohibition has been an improvement upon the system which it replaced, has turned money into food and clothing which formerly went into drink, and has greatly decreased drunkenness. When and if it is submitted, those who have enlisted for the war against the manufacture and sale of intoxicants will stand firmly against a return to the conditions that existed before 1920.

We declare it to be our conviction that no method has ever been devised to dispense alcohol that does not debauch and debase. In North Carolina various methods were tried, including the dispensary, before, in the conviction that prohibition was the only hope, the people of this state in 1908 by a popular majority of over 43,000 in a referendum, made it illegal to manufacture, sell or transport intoxicants. That law has proven a blessing, even though not adequately enforced. The people of North Carolina are highly resolved not to go back to the days of the saloon or still.

Believing in prohibition of the liquor traffic, and urging observance of the law, it should be emphasized that the duty of pastors in these disturbed and anxious days is to inculcate the doctrine of total abstinence. It is the ultimate only perfect solution and the only sure road to sobriety and the full protection of the home and the church from the drink evil. Let the church furnish to the world the example of non-indulgence.

We recommend that you support the Anti-Saloon League of North Carolina and beg that our churches be opened to their representatives.

That the presiding elder, in co-operation with the pastors and lay leaders of his district, arrange mass meetings to promote temperance and prohibition.

That the Board of Christian Education in each charge co-operate with the young people in meetings to promote temperance and prohibition; and that the young people's organizations of our church take the initiative in enlisting the young people of other denominations in city-wide and county-wide mass meetings.

That all our pastors preach on the curse of liquor and foster temperance in every way possible.

Finally, we desire to notify the wets of America that the moral forces, with the Cross of Jesus going on before, are NOT on the run, as they suppose, but we're on the march and when they resubmit the Eighteenth Amendment, we will face them on every stump and fight them at every ballot box, and this fight can only end in victory!

THE SPECULATIVE ERA

The debacle in business, which has produced much unemployment, followed an era of speculation and gambling beyond precedent. It permeated every class and injured all who sought to live by betting on the rise or fall of stocks and other species of gambling. We recall to the minds of our people the declaration of our church that "Gambling is one of the most degrading sins of the day," and urge them to refrain from it in every form.

CHILDREN CANNOT WAIT

The education of the child is the paramount duty of the state. The maintenance of public schools is essential even in the hardest times. It is to the glory of North Carolina that even in its crucial days of the War Between the States, the children were not forgotten. Other good things may wait, but the child denied education today cannot be provided with it tomorrow. Christian precepts and Christian examples are essential in all education whether by the church or the state. The growth of Duke University and its high standards is a matter of gratification to the church and to the commonwealth, as is the excellent work in all our educational institutions.

W. L. Knight offered the following amendment to the report:

That there are enough of the states of the political "Solid South" to preserve and keep the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States in said Constitution, and, if the said Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States is repealed, as threatened, it will be the result of the active support and politico-moral leadership of Southern people.

REPORT OF BOARD OF FINANCE

Your board submits this report with a feeling of regret, and at the same time feeling profoundly thankful for whatever has been done in behalf of this cause.

The conditions which we are now experiencing constitute an unanswerable argument for Superannuate Endowment. Without the aid coming from this fund and the Duke Foundation, we do not see how we could keep many of our claimants from real want.

We must keep this cause before the church, and we urge that every preacher present it to every congregation each year. Especially do we ask that adjusted quotas be looked after, and the churches urged to pay this during this quadrennium, if possible.

The preachers themselves and their families are the only direct beneficiaries of this fund; therefore, we do not feel that we are asking too much when we ask that every preacher make some personal contribution to this fund each year. If a preacher fails to support the fund now, he cannot complain if the fund fails him when he becomes a claimant upon it.

We request the Bishop to appoint Rev. T. M. Grant Conference Director of Superannuate Endowment, and ask that he be given the hearty co-operation of every member of the Conference, and that each presiding elder provide in his District Conference program an opportunity for the director, or his representative, to present this cause.

The following claimants have died during the year: Rev. L. E. Thompson, Rev. M. Bradshaw, Rev. J. A. Lee, Mrs. Josie B. Doub, Mrs. J. H. M. Giles, Mrs. A. D. Betts, Mrs. L. E. Thompson and Mrs. J. B. Bridges.

REPORT OF BIBLE SOCIETY BOARD

Your Committee rejoices at the splendid work being done by the American Bible Society. It is gratifying to know that in 1931 there were 9,375,000 copies or portions of the Scriptures distributed throughout the United States and in fifty foreign countries. Today the Bible is being read in 924 languages or dialects.

Your Committee respectfully recommends:

First: That we give generous support and hearty co-operation to the work of the American Bible Society;

Second: That each of our churches observe universal Bible Sunday;

Third: That our pastors encourage our people to more extensive Bible reading through the use of portions of the Scriptures designed for this purpose. The entire New Testament Set can be purchased from our Publishing House for only thirty cents.

Fraternally submitted,

Rocky Mount, N. C.
November 25, 1932.

(Signed) W. L. MANESS, Chairman,
H. R. ASHMORE, Secretary.

(Signed) JOHN F. BRUTON, Chairman,
F. S. ALDRIDGE, Secretary.

REPORT OF ORPHANAGE COMMITTEE

Our Methodist Orphanage is caring for 332 children. We learn with pleasure that the health of the children has been remarkably good during the past year. We heartily commend the expert medical attention that is being given these children, both by the doctors of Raleigh and a registered nurse, which we feel is largely responsible for this health record.

We also learn with pleasure that our Superintendent and Board of Trustees are seriously considering employing a case worker when financial conditions will permit. This method of dealing with the dependent child is in keeping with the most approved method of dealing with public welfare problems. This policy would enable a great number of children to be properly placed in homes of friends and relatives that the orphanage could never accommodate. We further learn that the Trustees are considering the advisability of extending Mother's Aid to worthy mothers of dependent children when financial conditions are more favorable.

We are pleased to report that the recommendations of this Committee in reference to the orphanage school, being supported by the state, have been complied with. This provides for the salaries of all the teachers for six months out of the ten.

In this day when there is a demand that rigid economy be practiced in all institutions we are pleased to state that the cost per capita in our orphanage is $58 less than the average among the fourteen largest orphanages in the two Carolinas. This in itself is a saving of $19,000 to our Conference in meeting the operating expenses of this institution.

Seven of our children have this year united with the Jenkins Memorial Church under the pastorate of Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw. The orphanage has a splendid Sunday school and two young people's societies which are well organized and are doing a splendid work.

We recommend that the orphanage apportionment be an amount equal to 10% of the pastor's salary for the Conference year 1932, and that it remain out of the Conference Budget. This amount for this coming year is $4,000 less than the asking for the year now closing because pastors' salaries have materially decreased. We further recommend that each pastor, as far as practicable, take a Thanksgiving offering for the orphanage, and request all Sunday schools do likewise. We request that our people continue to send us offerings from the Sunday schools.

During this Conference year two of the Trustees, Dr. M. Bradshaw and Dr. Albert Anderson, have died. We recommend that the following resolution from the Board of Trustees be incorporated in this report:

"In accordance with the resolution previously adopted, the Trustees decided by lot that the terms of the various Trustees should run as listed below. These terms were for two, four and six years, respectively, running from the last meeting of Conference:

"Elected to serve two years—term expiring 1933: B. B. Adams, Hon. Josephus Daniels, J. C. Braswell, Rev. R. W. Bradshaw, Mrs. Alma Edgerton, Dr. R. L. Flowers. Elected to serve four years—term expiring 1935: John L. Borden, Rev. L. S. Massey, W. Norwood Boyd, W. A. McGirt, C. A. Dillon. Elected to serve six years—term expiring 1937: J. S. Wynn, Graham Woodard, A. H. Vann, Judge J. C. Biggs, Frank B. Brown, Hon. R. N. Page. The six Trustees whose terms expire in 1933 were recommended for re-election."

We recommend the appointment of Rev. A. S. Barnes as Superintendent of the Methodist Orphanage, and Rev. C. K. Proctor the Superintendent of the Oxford Orphanage. The salary of the Superintendent, Rev. A. S. Barnes, is $3,600. This salary is fixed by the Board of Trustees of the Orphanage and not by this Committee. We have the assurance of the Superintendent that the salary of the Superintendent and all officers will be reduced at the beginning of the new Conference year.

(Signed) D. E. EARNHARDT, Chairman,
LEON M. HALL, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 1—BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES

To the Bishop and Members of the North Carolina Conference, Rocky Mount, North Carolina:

As directed by the Discipline of our church, your Conference Board of Lay Activities submits its annual report embodying some suggestions and recommendations as follows:

STEWARDSHIP

In the unusual times through which we are now passing, we realize the need of a more vital, intensive and extensive educational program for spiritual growth. Our people must be brought to a consciousness of the fact that all we are, all we have, and all we can do is a trust from Almighty God to be used for our highest good, for the blessing of our fellow man, for the glory of God and for the advancement of His kingdom. When our hearts are surcharged with this feeling, our financial problems will be solved, and Christ's cause will go forward with unabated interest.

We, therefore, recommend: (1) That each lay leader read at least one approved book on Stewardship this year; (2) that our laymen avail themselves of the opportunity to take the Stewardship units in a standard training school; and (3) that the minister of each charge be requested by the lay leader to preach upon this subject of Stewardship during the Conference year.

EVERY-MEMBER CANVASS

It is a fact that a large percent of the membership of the church makes no financial contribution to the work of the Kingdom. It is also a fact that the success of any church program depends upon the co-operation of the entire membership. To this end, we recommend that, immediately upon the beginning of the new Conference year, each church make an every-member canvass and seek, so far as it is possible, to get an offering from every member.

As a preparation for this canvass, we recommend that the pastor, in co-operation with the charge lay leader, the local Board of Lay Activities, and the local Board of Christian Education, map out a program of activities for the entire year.

BENEVOLENCES

Since Methodism's first and foremost connectional task is the raising of all benevolent claims, we recommend that all lay leaders and Boards of Stewards redouble their efforts, for the coming year, to secure 100% payment on all benevolences.

We further recommend that, during the cultivation period for the Kingdom Extension offering, lay speakers be used in co-operation with the pastor and charge lay leader.

THE METHODIST LAYMAN

The Methodist Layman is filling a place of its own and is indispensable to the lay leaders, members of Stewardship Committees and members of official boards. We especially recommend that an earnest effort be made to secure at least 5 subscriptions from each charge to include the charge lay leader, the chairman of the Board of Stewards and the chairman of the Stewardship Committee.

We further recommend the appointment of an agent for the Methodist Layman by each Board of Stewards in each church, holding the District lay leader and his associates responsible for this task. This agent is to keep an accurate list of subscribers, noting the date of expiration and soliciting renewal of each subscription.

We recommend also that the Board of Lay Activities send the Methodist Layman to all ministers in our Conference.

LAYMAN'S DAY

We recommend that Layman's Day be observed in every church on Sunday, June 18th, 1933, and we request the General Board of Lay Activities to prepare a special program to be used throughout the entire church on that day.

We especially urge District lay leaders, in co-operation with the pastors, church, and charge lay leaders, to make definite plans for the observance of this day and to announce them at the meeting of the District Conference.

We recommend that a special effort be made to secure new subscriptions to the Methodist Layman on this day.

OFFICERS

We nominate W. P. Few for Conference lay leader, W. K. Greene for associate Conference lay leader, and F. S. Aldridge for Secretary-Treasurer of the Board. We also recommend that the above officers, together with B. W. O'Neal, of Durham, and A. M. Noble, of Smithfield, constitute the Executive Committee of the Board for the ensuing year.

(Signed) W. P. FEW, Conference Lay Leader,
F. S. ALDRIDGE, Secretary-Treasurer.

REPORT NO. 2—BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES

We respectfully request the Committee on Arrangements of the Conference program to set apart Thursday night of Conference week for the anniversary of the Board of Lay Activities.

(Signed) W. P. FEW, Conference Lay Leader,
F. S. ALDRIDGE, Secretary-Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE HOSPITAL BOARD

Your Hospital Board submits the following report:

A review of this, the eleventh General Hospital Report submitted by the General Secretary, Dr. Charles C. Jarrell, reveals the fact that our twelve Methodist Hospitals have stood the strain of the last three years remarkably well. Yet they are suffering equally with all the other institutions of our church. Three of these, the ones in Montgomery, Alabama, Dallas and Forth Worth, Texas, are either already closed, or in a defunct condition from bond obligations. The Mary Ott new memorial hospital in Lexington, Kentucky, costing $350,000, was dedicated in September. The Elkin, North Carolina, hospital has just completed its first year.

We are grateful to the Duke Endowment for the $800,000 given in free clinic and hospital service to the underprivileged of our Carolinas this year.

It is estimated that $58,000 has been contributed this Conference year to the Golden Cross enrollment of our church. Of this amount, less than $200.00 was given by our own North Carolina Conference, one of the three strongest in Southern Methodism. Less than one out of every ten of our pastors reported anything to this great cause this year. In view of the unprecedented need of the hour, confronted with distressing need for increased service because of increased suffering, with ever-diminishing revenue, it is a challenge to our great Conference and church, and a supreme obligation upon our preachers and Golden Cross directors of the respective charges to give ourselves wholeheartedly to this ministry of healing to which we have been called.

We earnestly appeal for a much greater cultivation and enrollment in the Golden Cross Society this year in May. Arrangements have been made by your Board with Duke Hospital that the contributions to our Golden Cross may be used as desired and designated in the treatment of needy individual cases of our own Conference.

The Golden Cross director, Daniel Lane, is instructed by the Board to see that the hospital work is properly presented at the several District Conferences, and that our cause be kept before the public through our church paper.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) S. F. NICKS, Chairman,
DANIEL LANE, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE RELATIONS

Your Committee on Conference Relations desires to submit the following report:

We recommend for the supernumerary relation: N. M. McDonald, W. C. Jones, and Guy Hamilton.

We recommend for the superannuate relation: E. C. Glenn, T. S. Coble, A. W. Price, C. C. Brothers, J. M. Wright, T. H. Sutton, L. H. Joyner, C. P. Jerome, S. A. Nettles, R. F. Bumpas, T. J. (Signed) D. A. CLARKE, Chairman,

REPORT OF COMMISSION ON BENEVOLENCES

All of the promotion meetings were held in the various districts, as the Discipline provides, with great success. There was good attendance and a fine spirit, thus quickening the spiritual life and making greater progress in church work.

Your Executive Secretary offered his resignation, which was accepted, and J. M. Ormond was elected to succeed him.

The dates and places for the next series of Kingdom Extension and Missionary Institutes has been planned, and will appear in the Advocate.

(Signed) J. C. WOOTEN.

SPIRITUAL LIFE COMMITTEE

These times have driven all thinking people to endeavor to find the way out of our confusion and distrust. Your Committee on Spiritual Life is sure that the way out depends upon the life within and while there are any number of things we may recommend for our people to do, your Committee puts in a strong plea for all ministers and laymen to concentrate upon being more Christ-like within.

We feel that a study of the lives of our early Methodist leaders will help us to get that heart that becomes strangely warm and sends men to change the history of nations.

We recommend that during the Conference year, the Wednesday night service be given over to a study of the history and spirit of Methodism. There are outstanding books dealing with the fighting spirit and original genius of our early ministers available for personal study and class work. And we feel that this year being the Sesqui-centennial of our great church affords an opportunity to observe certain dates that will be brought to our attention by the General and Conference organs, and we recommend that, in so far as local conditions allow, the plans for these historical celebrations be adopted and adapted.

Let evangelism have first place in our thinking and preaching, evangelism that will begin in the heart of the preacher and work throughout the membership. Let us "kindle a flame of sacred love in these cold hearts of ours."

We recommend the appointment of a committee by the presiding elder of each district, said committee to include any member of the Conference Committee on Spiritual Life within the bounds of that district, to study carefully the needs of their several districts in the development of that spirit that will witness to the grace and power of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

Respectfully submitted,

DUKE FUND COMMISSION

From the first, money received from the Duke Fund went to aid in the building of churches in the country, and to support preachers in country places. Later, assistant pastors have been sent out to the country places to engage in various lines of church work.

For several years the Board of Church Extension of Louisville has placed a competent architect, Mr. H. N. Haines, at Duke University, Durham, N. C., to co-operate with Duke University and the Duke Foundation in the building of country churches. He is available for drawing plans and for supervising all kinds of church building in both town and country.

The several lines along which the Duke Foundation proceeds are well known. Details may be secured from Prof. J. M. Ormond, Durham, N. C.

The several items, with the amounts for each, during the Conference year, 1931-1932, are as follows:

CHURCH BUILDING FUND

Appropriations, 3; amount appropriated, $420.00.

CHURCH MAINTENANCE FUND

Appropriations, 159; amount appropriated, $5,385.00.

SUPERANNUATE FUND

Appropriations, 236; amount appropriated, $29,000.

ASSISTANT PASTORS

Sixty-seven assistant pastors were sent out to work on the rural circuits of North Carolina for ten weeks during the summer of 1932. Some did evangelistic work exclusively, some Cokesbury work exclusively, and some did the general work of assistant pastors.

MANAGERS OF PASTORS' SCHOOL

The regular session of the Pastors' School met at Duke University last June. Though the attendance was not quite up to the usual, the work done and the spirit shown were most gratifying.

The plans for next year are shaping up well and the prospect is for an excellent program of notable teachers and preachers. One of these will be Dr. James Moffatt.

SESQUI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

The Program Committee of the Joint Commission on the Sesqui-centennial met recently in Baltimore and decided that the celebration should extend throughout the entire year of 1934.

The report notes particularly certain important dates throughout the year, such as February for Wesley's first interview with Coke suggesting his plan, August 20—Asbury's birthday, September 8-10—Coke's ordination and Wesley's letter to the American Methodists, the meeting of Coke and Asbury at Barrett's Chapel November 14, and the Christmas Conference at the end of the year.

The date was fixed for the central celebration at Baltimore from Wednesday to Sunday, October 10 to October 14. Each annual Conference is to be asked to appoint a Committee on Arrangements for Conference celebration. It is the hope that the celebration will extend down to every local church in all the branches.

Among the plans to be carried out will be a pageant and a musical festival which can be duplicated in the local celebrations.

Therefore, in keeping with the request of the Joint Commission, this Conference instructs the chair to appoint a committee of three—this number to be increased as needs may arise—to carry out the plans of the Joint Commission. Let this committee join with the Committee on Spiritual Life of this Conference to foster during the year a knowledge of the history and spirit of Methodism in all our churches.

R. E. BROWN,
W. P. FEW.

RESOLUTIONS ON CONFERENCE ENTERTAINMENT

First: To designate the place for holding the Annual Conference;

Second: To work out plans by which the Conference may be entertained at the least possible expense;

Rocky Mount, North Carolina.
November 25, 1932.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS

In affording entertainment to the ninety-sixth session of the North Carolina Annual Conference, Rocky Mount has measured unto a high-water mark in the demonstration of lavish hospitality. Apparently there has been no reserve on the part of the citizens of this splendid city as they gave themselves to the thoughtful care of their visitors. A display of beautiful fraternity and Christian helpfulness has been manifested through the cordial co-operation of the various churches of the community.

The most minute details did not escape the attention of the Rev. T. G. Vickers and those laboring with him. All legitimate human needs were amply provided for, and even extravagant desires were practically anticipated.

The women of the First Methodist Church abundantly prepared for the physical wants of all those sufficiently fortunate to partake of the substantial and tempting meals which they served.

Local and state papers gave wide and efficient publicity to all the proceedings of the Conference.

Therefore, to each one contributing to the genuine pleasure of our brief stay in Rocky Mount, we whole-heartedly express our unmeasured gratitude.

As the Methodist Bishop, ministers and laymen reluctantly take their leave of the city and its gracious people who have made them their debtors, it is with earnest prayer to our Heavenly Father for the continued outpouring of His spirit and grace upon the entire citizenry of the noble community.

(Signed) E. C. FEW in behalf of the North Carolina Conference.

LUDOLPHUS E. THOMPSON

By T. G. Vickers

The ancestral seat of one branch of the Thompson family was at Oaks in Orange County, North Carolina, in the middle of the nineteenth century. In 1855, the Rev. W. H. Thompson and his wife, Elvira Arnold Thompson, were living there. Mr. Thompson was a teacher. It was on July 29 of that year, 1855, that a son was born to this couple. This son was a proper child and to him his parents gave the name Ludolphus Edward. The boy grew up in the atmosphere of this home on the farm, received the indelible impressions of childhood from these godly parents, and, with his father and Rev. J. D. Arnold as his teachers, early in life turned his mind to the service of God. As a youth he spent four years in Bingham Military School near Mebane, N. C. In 1878 he joined the North Carolina Conference in session at Charlotte, North Carolina, with D. L. Earnhardt, James E. Bristowe, John N. Cole and Matthew H. Moore as Conference classmates. His first appointment was Montgomery Circuit, where he remained one year. During his first year he received eight members into the Church on profession of faith. There were twelve churches on the circuit and the young preacher was kept busy filling his appointments, making his rounds, and working on the Conference course of study. The charge was assessed for preacher in charge $225.00 and paid him $181.91. While the young servant of the Lord received small material return for his labors during this first year of his ministry, he did make a good start toward winning his spurs as an itinerant Methodist preacher. During the succeeding forty-six years of his life, he served almost every type of pastoral charge in Methodism. His appointments were as follows: 1878, Montgomery Circuit; 1879, Franklinville Circuit; 1880-81, Lexington Station; 1882, Rowan Circuit; 1883-84, located, living on plantation at Oaks; 1885, Hillsboro Circuit; 1886, Mooresville Circuit; 1887-88-89-90, Yanceyville Circuit; 1891-92, Louisburg Station; 1893, Burlington Station; 1894-95-96, Burlington Station, Graham and Haw River; 1897, Pittsboro Circuit; 1898-99-1900-01, Carthage Circuit; 1902-03-04-05, Washington Station; 1906-07, First Church, Elizabeth City; 1908-09-10-11, Hay Street, Fayetteville; 1912-13-14-15, Presiding Elder, Wilmington District; 1916, Presiding Elder, Warrenton District; 1917-18-19-20, First Church, Henderson; 1921, Calvary, Durham; 1922, Louisburg Station; 1923-24, Mebane Station; 1925, superannuated.

While pastor at Burlington, 1894-97, he had as his assistants at Graham and Haw River J. A. Dailey and M. J. Hunt.

In 1913-15 this writer was the preacher in charge at Bladen Street Church in Wilmington where Brother Thompson lived as Presiding Elder. It was during these two years that the opportunity came for the beginning and development of a friendship between the subject of this sketch and its writer which grew and ripened into a sweet fellowship which became more and more precious through the years.

Brother Thompson was a student, prompt and conscientious in preparation of his work. He finished the four years' course of study prescribed for undergraduates without a break, an exceptional case in those days, and was ordained an elder in 1882 by Bishop John C. Keener. At Conference in 1882 he was appointed to Rowan Circuit, but had to give up the work after the beginning of the year to return to the farm and help meet an emergency in his father's affairs. He located the next fall, 1883, and remained on the farm until 1885, when he was readmitted to Conference and sent to Hillsboro Circuit. On February 14, 1883, he was married to Miss Lou McCrary of Lexington, North Carolina, and to this union were born two daughters, Edna and Vera, and three sons, Hartwell, John and Earl, all of whom, except Vera, survive. It will be noted that his last pastorate was at Mebane, where was located Bingham Military School in which he received his major educational advantages. Upon superannuation in 1925, he moved to Lexington, where Mrs. Thompson owned a home, and remained until the end. On December 4, 1931, came the last call, this time to the presence of his glorified Lord. On Sunday afternoon, December 5, the funeral was held at the home in Lexington, conducted by this writer, assisted by the Revs. J. B. Hurley and J. E. Abernethy. The mortal remains lie sleeping in the cemetery within a few hundred yards of his last earthly home.

Brother Thompson was first of all a Christian. He had a rich personal experience and knowledge of his Lord. He depended not only upon the fact that he had had sometime in the past a mountaintop spiritual experience, but also upon frequent repetitions along similar lines. He rejoiced in these precious moments and in them fed upon the bread from heaven. He rejoiced to be an humble follower close to Christ, and when he came to the end of the earthly road it was easy to pass over the bridge and continue the momentarily interrupted journey with his Master forever. This genuine Christian experience dominated all his conduct and course of life. In all matters, personal, private, and public he measured values by the standard of Jesus. It was natural, therefore, that he should be thoroughly conscientious in all things, strict first with himself, and always holding up a standard of righteousness on the highest plane for the guidance of those about him, in his home and in the congregations and districts which he served.

As a student, something already has been said of Brother Thompson's industry. He prepared his sermons with meticulous care, usually writing out in full the messages he felt himself to be sent of God to deliver. He carried his manuscripts to the pulpit and, while following them carefully, was able to strike fire as few men can who use manuscripts in the delivery of sermons. His sermons were logically constructed and forcefully delivered. As a preacher of the gospel, this man is to be placed high in the list of representatives of Christ in the pulpit.

Brother Thompson was a most conscientious pastor. He made it a rule to spend a certain time each day making pastoral calls. Though he felt as much as any man the burden and delicacy of the pastoral visit he appreciated it also as a rigid duty and a golden opportunity. He visited from house to house, people of every station and degree, blessing the children, comforting the sorrowful, strengthening the weak, heartening the discouraged, greeting the vigorous and refreshing all with his unflinching cheerfulness and invincible hopefulness. This writer succeeded him as pastor at Henderson in 1921 and recalls many testimonials of members of that congregation concerning Brother Thompson's faithful pastoral service, especially during the influenza epidemic of 1918. In those terrible days he visited the sick and dying during the week and on Sunday when the regular services were discontinued because of the danger of contagion, he spent the hours set for public worship in his pulpit alone praying for his people. The church bell would ring and throughout the city the people knew that their pastor was in the house of worship praying for them in their distress.

While he was Presiding Elder the affairs of the district were his constant care. With characteristic thoroughness he acquainted himself with conditions, needs and prospects in every pastoral charge. He made it his business to know the problems of his preachers. His administration was always with an even hand. His leadership was an inspiration. He served well in this capacity as in every other to which the Church called him.

As a man, L. E. Thompson was four-square. He shrank from controversy and whenever possibly consistent with Christian manhood, he avoided conflict and antagonism. He was not one to take issue in petty matters or to contend merely for the sake of making his point. He preferred, rather, to concede and conciliate in issues of minor importance. But when real principle was involved he never hesitated to take his ground and stand squarely for what he conceived to be right. To say that he was never afraid in a contest would be to say he was not human. He was frequently subject to fear, but he was possessed of that highest form of courage, the courage to do what he thought he ought to do in spite of fear and to take the consequences without flinching. He was bold when boldness was really required, though it was always painful to him to assert himself and he never rose up merely for the sake of showing off or putting himself forward, yet he "dared do all that might become a man."

As a friend, this man is to be mentioned only in the superlative. Superficially, he seemed a little stiff and reserved, perhaps over-dignified, but in reality his heart was warm, unselfish and most sweetly human. Within the precincts of his innermost soul a few privileged individuals found these qualities in richest vein. These came to love him, to rejoice in him and to bask in the sunlight of his love and tenderness. He possessed a rare sense of humor and many were the occasions when he not only himself enjoyed ridiculous situations, but regaled those about him with recitals of witty stories and incidents beyond measure. He was big enough to enjoy a joke at his own expense as well as at the expense of another. This writer often laughed with him when he laughed at himself.

This man was not only a student, an unusual preacher, a pastor, a presiding elder, a real man and a true friend, he was a husband and father in the truest sense of the words. He was a rock of defense and refuge to his wife and children, for which they will ever glorify God in deepest gratitude. Strong, loving, he graced his position as head of his household in every way. His wife and children were his friends. Each one of them was recognized as an individual and encouraged to cultivate and maintain his or her own convictions upon all matters. His guiding principle was that every person must think for himself. He taught his children accordingly. Consequently each of them is today standing on his own feet, the daughter, a devoted woman giving herself without stint to the care of the home and to her duties as a teacher, gentle, self-sacrificing, constantly seeking some way to do good; the boys, stalwart, self-reliant, aggressive, and true. Through all these years his wife was a worthy helpmeet. They made a good team. They pulled together for the highest objectives of life. Today their children bless the Lord for such a mother and father.

He served his Conference in every capacity with faithfulness, efficiency and unquestioning loyalty and was still a member of the Conference Board of Trustees at the time of his departure. Few, indeed, have been more valuable in the ranks and councils of the North Carolina Conference in all its history. We close the printed record today, but many of us will push forward indebted to L. E. Thompson at least in part, for our inspiration, heirs with him of the selfsame hope, looking forward to the time when we shall join him in its realization in that Church Triumphant where he now forever glorifies his Lord.

CLARK CONRADE ALEXANDER

By F. S. Love

Clark Conrade Alexander was born December 30, 1892, at Cottage Grove, Tennessee. He died at Clinton, North Carolina, January 21, 1932. Thirty-nine years is not a long life measured by years, but in the person of Clark Alexander, life was so full as to make meaningless computation by the calendar. His life is a story of crowded years and enduring service.

His parents, Martin Bruce Alexander and Saran Idella Stewart Alexander, made a home where inspiration to great living was undergirded with Christian ideals and rugged morality. Clark Alexander came from this home to his service among men with the finest sense of honor.

From the day he entered the McFerrin School in Martin, Tennessee, in 1913, his were the finest associations. At McFerrin began a friendship with the headmaster, Mr. G. L. Morelock, now General Secretary of the Board of Lay Activities, that was broken only by the death of Brother Alexander. His student days multiplied his friendships with great educators and church leaders.

Brother Alexander joined the Cottage Grove Methodist Church at the age of 11. He was called to preach in 1912. He came from school one day saying to his mother, "I have to preach." When faced with the fact that he could not be financed for his training his answer was, "I'll work my way through, but I must go. And when I start, I'm not going to stop until I am prepared to be a real minister." He was licensed to preach by the Union City District Conference of the Memphis Conference, November 7, 1913. For the next two years he did some supply work and evangelistic preaching. 1915-1919 finds him at Trinity College, where he received the B.A. degree; 1920-1922 were spent at Princeton University, where he received the degree of Master of Arts and the degree of Bachelor of Theology. Brother Alexander was ordained a local deacon at the session of the North Carolina Conference held in Greenville, N. C., in 1917. While at Princeton he was called to a Presbyterian Church and ordained to the Presbyterian ministry. At the close of his work at Princeton he returned to the church of his childhood. The record of his active ministry follows:

Pastor Duck Neck Presbyterian Church, Duck Neck, N. Y., 1921-23; First Methodist Church, Tupelo, Miss., 1923-26; Professor of Bible and Religious Education, Birmingham-Southern College, 1926-29; President of Louisburg College, 1929-31; Pastor Methodist Church, Clinton, N. C., from June, 1931, to the time of his death, January 21, 1932.

In each of these he served with distinction and to the advancement of the interests of the Church.

In his student days at Trinity he was a member of Sigma Chi and Tau Kappa Alpha. He was editor of the Chronicle, represented the college in intercollegiate debating and took an active interest in college athletics. He was one of the leaders in re-establishing football at Trinity. While president of Louisburg College he was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Clark Alexander was a great pastor. He must have been a teacher of unusual ability. His students pay him the finest tributes as to his methods and the inspirational character of the man and his teaching. It was the writer's privilege to be intimately associated with him while he was president of Louisburg College. This was his most disappointing work, yet there was no failure on his part. The problems he faced were almost impossible of solution, yet he brought to them such honesty, consecration and skill that my admiration for him grew as he grappled with them. In it all he was the fine gentleman that Christianity makes.

When the church at Clinton met to pay tribute to their loved pastor in a memorial service, the writer was invited to take a part in this service. In the fulness of their devotion as revealed in that service, the great congregation, the tear-dimmed eyes, the words of praise, one came to know that Clark Alexander was pre-eminently a pastor. He had the pastor heart, and his carefully prepared sermons were aglow with the love that made him loved with such devotion. There seemed to open to him a great place in his field of service. Mr. H. M. Register of Clinton says of him: "I think I can say he was liked by everybody who came in contact with him and it was only a reflection from his own life, for he loved everybody." President W. P. Few says: "His sudden going is a loss to good causes and a stunning blow to us, his many friends." His achievement as a pastor is well expressed in the resolution of the Board of Stewards of the Clinton Church: "In the passing of Dr. Clark C. Alexander our church has lost an able, faithful and consecrated pastor, his home a kind and loving husband and father, our community a noble citizen, our young people a safe and sympathetic friend and adviser. Though young in years his life was rich in experience and accomplishments. He was by nature retiring, ever manifesting a spirit of humility, yet his life, presence, and service were at all times deeply impressive. Unexpectedly he has been called to his reward, leaving heartaches and sadness among all with whom he served and to whom he ministered, but his noble spirit will always be present with those who knew him and loved him, urging them on to higher ideals, nobler life and the faithful service of God. If he could speak to us from the grave he would admonish us to live clean lives, to be faithful to the church and Sunday School, to be serviceable to mankind, to keep close to God, and in simple faith accept Jesus Christ as a personal and only Saviour." This brother of ours met the higher demands of home and even more perfectly than the duties of the ministry. In 1917, in the home of his closest friend, Rev. A. J. Hobbs, he met and loved Miss Rachel Allie Hobbs, of Corapeake, N. C. They were married August 31, 1921. To them were given three children, Rachel Hobbs, Martha Clark, and Sarah Newland Alexander. These with their mother survive him. To them is granted the comfort of the memory of a husband and father who realized the ideals of a Christian home.

The news of the death of Brother Alexander called a host of friends and many of his fellow pastors to gather at Clinton, where the last rites were said and his body laid to rest. The funeral services were held at the church where he had so happily ministered, and were conducted by Rev. W. C. Martin, Presiding Elder of the Wilmington District, Rev. H. B. Porter, pastor of Grace Street, Wilmington, and Rev. J. H. Shore, First Church, Hamlet, and chairman of the Board of Trustees of Louisburg College, read the lessons. Prayer was made by Rev. H. M. North, Presiding Elder of the Raleigh District. Rev. M. O. Saummers of the Clinton Presbyterian Church paid tribute in telling words on behalf of the churches of the town. At the grave the services were conducted by Rev. Walter Patten, Hay Street, Fayetteville, and Rev. T. M. Grant of Wilson. In that service so tenderly rendered by devoted friends the earthly association of Rev. Clark Conrade Alexander closed. He abides in the immortality of good deeds. He continues among us in the memory of an abundant life nobly and radiantly lived.

MICHAEL BRADSHAW

By W. P. Few

Reverend Michael Bradshaw was born in Alamance County, North Carolina, December 18, 1859, the son of William Saurine and Margaret Faucette (Stockard) Bradshaw. When he was twelve years of age his family moved to the seat of Trinity College in Randolph County, where he entered the preparatory department in the session of 1871-72. He entered the freshman class in September, 1874, and graduated in 1878 at the age of eighteen. He seems to have spent the two following years there at old Trinity. Then he taught school for a while in Duplin County, before going to Asheboro, where he read law with his brother, George Samuel. He spent the year 1883-84 in the Law School of the University of North Carolina. He received his law license in 1884. The following six years he lived in Asheboro, a member of the law firm of Bradshaw and Bradshaw and also editing the Asheboro Courier.

He had by the spring of 1891 given over the idea of the law and had decided to enter the ministry. In the spring of '91 he taught school in Jonesboro, where his sister and his father and mother were living. In the autumn of 1891 he was admitted to the North Carolina Conference at Greenville.

On April 7, 1897, Dr. Bradshaw married Mary Whitehurst of Tarboro. She made him an appropriate helpmeet and she survives in a comfortable old age and as a benediction to her children and friends. There are four children: Margaret Stockard (Mrs. W. D. Linton of Atlanta, Georgia); Reverend Robert Wallace, who joined the Conference at Greenville in 1931, just forty years after his father had joined there, and is now pastor of Jenkins Memorial Church at Raleigh; Michael, who teaches English in the University of Texas; and William Gaston, who lives with his mother in Durham and is engaged in business there.

His first appointment was to the Lillington Circuit and his last was Presiding Elder of the Raleigh District. He served there for three years and in 1930 at the Henderson Conference superannuated at his own request, making to the Conference a statement that will long be remembered. He spent thirteen years in Durham. Beginning in 1907 for four years he was pastor of the old Main Street Church, afterwards removed to a new site and now known as Duke Memorial. He returned to this church in 1918 and served five years, making nine in all, and the four succeeding years he lived in Durham as Presiding Elder of the district. A large part of the other years of his ministry he lived in Goldsboro, Wilson, and Raleigh.

Dr. Bradshaw was a great preacher. He was engaged in the study and practice of law until he was thirty-one years old. He had the quietness and reticence that are apt to go with strength. I have heard him preach many times, but it is not surprising to me that I never heard him refer to the inner experiences that led him to pass from the law to preaching and I have not been able to find anywhere any references that he has made to these experiences.

Whatever they were, when he entered the ministry he entered with all his powers concentrated on that task. He became a persuasive preacher of the gospel of Jesus Christ, and he was a leader of an always willing flock who brought the best wisdom of his generation to the service of the children of the light.

He was a great preacher because he was first a great man. He came of sturdy stock. His ancestors on both sides, his brothers George Samuel, William Gaston, and his sister, Mary Elizabeth (Mrs. J. J. Partridge), were all substantial people. The families have maintained a high level for generations. I recently visited the old home place near Phillips Chapel in Alamance County and the old house which still stands. It is in the edge of a forest that looks much as it must have looked three-quarters of a century ago. The whole surroundings suggest the robust character and achievements of an extraordinary generation of Americans. Something elemental out of nature passed into his life—something of nature's calm, its silences, its consolations, and its strength. He early came to know men and life in their elemental and essential qualities. He lived through a stirring period in American history. He shared fully in the life of his time. He had a keen relish for life. He loved people, he loved his country. He had faith in mankind. He knew its weaknesses, but he also knew its inherent tenderness and strength. He kept through life a confident and, on the whole, a justified belief that out of all its struggles and aspirations, its sufferings and defeats, humanity would emerge into an ever-increasing good. This note of hopefulness remained with him to the last. I saw him a few days before he died. His body was plainly wrecked by the wear and tear of the years and the ravages of disease, but his mind was still clear as a bell and he was radiant with hope. He realized the end was near and he was calmly awaiting life's last and greatest adventure.

Dr. Bradshaw died at his home in Durham February 7, 1932, and was buried in sight of the towers and within the sound of the bells of Duke University, with which, including Trinity College, he had as student, alumnus, patron, and trustee, sustained intimate connections through a period of sixty-one years.

I have in my possession a copy of a letter written to a little girl about Dr. Bradshaw by a very wise and good man who has large business influence and importance in this country. This letter illustrates the high opinion of Dr. Bradshaw that was held by men of this type and it also throws light on Dr. Bradshaw's relation to children and on his life and character. For these reasons I venture to quote it in full:

"You may not be going every day or two to the little home on Duke street; for Mr. Bradshaw has gone, and you cannot walk up to him and shake his hand as you have been doing. He has not, however, gone very far. You can't see him now, but he is around about and near. He is in heaven with God and the angels; but he did so much good and said so many good things while he was here that he still lives all around us.

"When you were sick, he would come to see you and kneel down and say a prayer. When you were sad and in trouble and the world looked dark, he would tell you a kind word—a word of cheer. When you were playing and having a good time, and everybody was laughing and happy, he was happy too. When there were big things to be done, he knew what to do and how to do it. In all that he said and did, he was so much like Jesus. He never 'passed by on the other side.' He loved people; he loved little children; he loved you—and all who knew him loved him.

"You will take the piece of gold which he left you and put it in the bank, and mark on your little book 'From Mr. Bradshaw.' As it increases from month to month and from year to year, you will think about him. Then you may use it to help some one. All of us, Anne, should try to be good and to do good like Mr. Bradshaw."

HARRY MAURICE NORTH

By J. C. Wooten

Harry Maurice North, born in Cleveland County, North Carolina, March 16, 1873, was the son of the Rev. John Wesley and Cynthia Wells North. In the district parsonage at Raleigh he died February 11, 1932. Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon, assisted by Revs. J. C. Wooten, F. S. Love, W. A. Stanbury, Walter Patten, and M. Y. Self, pastor of the Laurinburg Methodist Church, conducted the funeral from that church. He is survived by his sisters, Mrs. T. W. Stacy, Mrs. T. J. Gill, Mrs. W. E. Severance, and Miss Eva North.

His going was unexpected as he was ill only half an hour. It is hard, even now, to realize that his sunny soul should have so suddenly slipped away from us. He did not have to get ready for the long journey, for since the early age of seven he had walked with the Lord. Among the many things to be done during his young manhood was his preparation for the ministry, to which he had a definite call.

It was not so easy to get an education then as now. The circumstances were the kind to call for an extra faith and rather a fine opportunity for developing the heroic; so his early estimate of things worth while, things worth living and dying for, put him on a high standard which he maintained through all his years. His gentleness and purity enabled him to live and labor among the tangled shreds of life unafraid. Indeed he was an honored member of the Round Table like unto the chivalry of the knights of old. He never sought a place for himself, nor allowed anyone to suffer for his acts. There were no wounded hearts in solitary places because of his administration. In the finest sense he was a Christian gentleman.

In 1899 he graduated from Trinity College, winning the Wiley Gray Medal by his commencement oration. His devotion to high cultural standards and his desire to attain them; his use of the best literature and his high associations admitted him to the school for scholars. That well selected library of his has a suitable place in the library of the School of Religion at Duke. I am sure that it would have been a pleasure for him to know that this department wanted it and that his people so graciously gave it to Duke.

From the time of his entrance to Trinity College he was recognized as a choice spirit. His election to Phi Beta Kappa; the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, the first that Duke ever conferred, were expressions of the University's estimate of his scholarship. Many times was he honored by being placed on important committees through which the institution planned its future.

For three years he was headmaster of Trinity Park School. This was his opportunity for influencing the young men who came for further preparation before entering college. The call to the active pastorate was so urgent that he yielded and went again into the regular work.

His writings, aside from his sermons, were not extensive, but select. In preparing the Sunday School lesson studies for the editor of the General Board, a high standard of excellence was shown. The Harvest and the Reapers reveals the ruling passion of his life, that the world might know and love God and be saved from sin. Right well he does it, as he shows the need of the gospel and a practical explanation of the way to do Christian work.

In the make-up of his thinking were the touch of the poetic and the mark of the mystic, as well as the profound respect for the scientific facts. All of these were immersed in the spirit as he sought for truth. Consequently in his approach and comprehension of truth the doors were wide open.

His sermons fittingly represent the transition from the old to the new. I never knew him to preach a poor sermon. Most effectively he did his work as pastor, as presiding elder, and in many evangelistic services. The people heard him gladly. So often have I heard him pleading, as every minister should, with the unsaved in the congregation to yield to the Spirit. At the last Conference he was selected by the Bishop as special preacher for the worship hours during the week.

Not only was he a gentleman and scholar, but he was a devout Christian. Through his boyhood and young manhood "he grew in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

Immediately after his graduation from Trinity College in 1899, he was sent to the Snow Hill Circuit to finish out the year's work for Rev. L. J. Holden. At the Conference at Washington he joined the North Carolina Conference and served the following places: Snow Hill Circuit, 1899; Morehead City, 1900; City Road, 1903; Trinity Park School, 1904; Edenton Street, 1908; Durham District, 1913; Memorial, 1914; Rockingham District, 1918; Conference Educational Secretary, 1920; Rocky Mount, 1921; Kinston, 1925; Wilmington District, 1926; Raleigh District, 1930.

Well might he have said: "The spirit of God is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

He was never quite so happy as when he was in the work as pastor. He loved his people and they loved him; therefore his work always grew in numbers and in spiritual life. The school work gave him an opportunity to speak a word for the Lord as he labored and loved and inspired the boys in the Park School. Anything that separated him from the leadership of his flock was not so desirable. Once when he was slated for a secretaryship, the Bishop asked him if he would accept it. He replied that he would, but that he had no family other than his congregation and that now it would please him more to serve the folks in a more intimate relation. Position did not count as compared with the yearning to be a good shepherd of his flock.

He was a good preacher because he was good. The fruits of his prayer life were beautiful. There was a constant communion with Him whom he loved and served. Often have we adventured in spiritual realms together as we sought the way for ourselves and our work. I am pleased to call him my friend. His going was a personal loss, because my main human agency for spiritual strength is gone. How happy the hours we spent together with our friend Bishop Kilgo, whose holy influences enriched our lives. So much I miss them and shall till we meet again.

"Thou wouldst not alone
Be saved, my father. Alone
Conquer and come to thy goal,
Leaving the rest in the wild;
Still thou turnedst, and still
Gavest the weary thy hand.
Therefore to thee it was given
Many to save with thyself;
And at the end of the day
O faithful shepherd to come
Bringing thy sheep in thy hand."

S. E. WRIGHT

By H. B. Porter

Samuel Ernest Wright, son of J. E. and Ida Wright, was born in Cleveland County, N. C., July 18, 1893. His parents were devout Christians who lived and practiced their religion before him. From infancy to young manhood he was nurtured in the atmosphere of a home where such Christian graces as honesty, truthfulness, faith, love and purity were cherished and maintained as among the choicest virtues of everyday life. His boyhood home furnished a fine setting for the molding of a strong and sturdy character.

When our country entered the World War, the call soon came to him for service overseas. He immediately answered that call and after a brief period in training, he went to the front in France. Both in training and in actual conflict he was a true soldier, displaying an enviable loyalty and devotion to the great causes for which our country had become involved in that costly struggle. While he had looked upon the war as a major evil and hated it, he loved his country and he was unyielding in his devotion to those high ideals which have made it great.

After receiving his discharge from the army, he located in Hickory, N. C. Soon thereafter he married Miss Florence Sharpe. There he also engaged in a business enterprise which soon grew into promising proportions.

His business career, however, was of short duration. For he soon received another call. This time the call was not from his government, but from his God. And it came with an appeal to dedicate his life not to the bloody task of killing, but to the exalted service of making alive; not to destroy life, but to save life. Regarding the certainty of his call to the ministry he never entertained the slightest doubt. And with that divine impression to preach came, also, the realization that to do so would necessitate giving up his business and going to college. For with him a call to preach was, first of all, a challenge to prepare to preach. He met that challenge with the faith and fortitude which characterized his whole life. Disposing of all his business interests, he entered Rutherford College and later Duke University, where he was graduated in 1926. During this period of preparation, as well as through the few years of his brief ministry, his devoted wife was always a true helpmeet, and encouraged him in every good work to which he devoted his consecrated life.

Brother Wright was admitted on trial into the North Carolina Conference at Fayetteville in 1925. He was ordained Deacon in Raleigh, 1927, and Elder in Kinston, 1929. During his brief ministry of slightly more than six years, he served as pastor White Memorial and City Road Charge, Henderson, two years, and the Warren Circuit four years. At the Conference a year ago he was assigned to the Enfield-Whitakers Charge, which he had served only a few months when yet another, and final, call came; this time to enter "the general assembly and Church of the firstborn which are written in heaven." He answered from a hospital in Rocky Mount early Saturday morning, February 27, 1932. While he had not been physically strong for some time and his wife and closest friends were somewhat apprehensive about him, yet his condition was not thought to be very critical. The end was rather sudden and unexpected and came as a great shock to the members of his family and his many friends.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Samuel Ernest, Jr., his mother, one brother and three sisters, who with a great host of friends loved him and will remember him for the life he lived and the good he did.

On Sunday morning, February 28, at eleven o'clock, a great company of sorrowing friends and loved ones gathered at the Methodist Church in Enfield to pay their tribute of love and esteem to the memory of this young man of God whose life and ministry had been a benediction to them. The funeral services were conducted by this writer, assisted by Revs. L. B. Jones, E. N. Harrison and S. J. Starnes. From there the body was taken to Hickory, N. C., where further services were held in the First Methodist Church on Monday morning, conducted by Rev. S. J. Starnes, assisted by Revs. D. E. Earnhardt, D. M. Sharpe and W. C. Wilson of the North Carolina Conference, and A. C. Gibbs and C. S. Kirkpatrick of the Western North Carolina Conference. Thence they carried his body to its final resting place in the cemetery at Hickory, where, as one who was present said, "the remains of our good friend and brother were left sleeping under a mound of beautiful flowers to await the resurrection morning."

Perhaps no member of the North Carolina Conference knew Brother Wright more intimately than I. During his first pastorate it was my pleasure to be associated with him in an adjoining pastorate in the same town. In that association we came to know each other with an affectionate intimacy which continued until the hour he left us. There we learned to confide in each other. I went to him with many of my problems and he came to me with his. Thus I learned to know something of the fine quality of his character, the warmth and tenderness of his heart and the alertness of his mind which was yet young in years, but capable of mature judgment. Some of the finest virtues that grace the character of man were woven deeply into the fibres of his being.

Brother Wright was "a good minister of Jesus Christ" and a faithful pastor of the people committed to his spiritual care and leadership. He had one ideal which he ever sought to follow, and that was found in the Good Shepherd who laid down his life for the sheep. He loved his people and they loved him.

Though taken from us so soon after starting out upon a career which gave promise of great usefulness, his life was not lived in vain. He did not come down to failure and defeat. He lived, rather, a victorious life and he went out triumphant. The influence of that radiant life will live on among us and only eternity will tabulate the good he did during those few brief years of his ministry. We are comforted with the assurance that in the real sense he is not dead. He still lives and will live forever. Such is the faith of those who follow Him who said, "Because I live, ye shall live also."

JACOB ALEXANDER LEE

By A. J. Groves

Jacob Alexander Lee, son of John H. and Eliza Frances Lee, was born near Shelby in Cleveland County, February 24, 1856; and died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James T. Beason in Shelby, N. C., October 26, 1932.

Brother Lee received his educational training at Bolling Springs Academy and Rutherford College; but when he quit school he did not quit study, for he was a great student all of his life. He not only kept himself well informed by reading the current literature of the day, but he read many books as well.

On July 28, 1881, Brother Lee was married to Sara Cynthia Grigg. To this union were born three daughters: Ada V., who married James F. Blue of Parkton, N. C., Ida Mae, who married Dr. Vernon S. Andrews of Mt. Gilead, N. C., and Buena V., who married James T. Beason of Shelby, N. C. These with their mother and several grandchildren live to mourn his going.

Brother Lee was licensed to preach in 1879 and joined the North Carolina Conference (embracing then the territory occupied by both conferences now) in 1882. He was ordained Deacon in 1882, and ordained Elder in 1886.

As a preacher he had an experimental knowledge of the Christ he loved to preach; and those to whom he preached were made to realize that he spoke with divine authority. By the thoughtful people to whom he ministered he was recognized as a strong preacher. His sermons were not made of the material gathered from the topics of the day, but rather from the Word of God. This does not mean that he was not interested in the social and civic life of the communities in which he lived, for he had a lively interest in everything that was for the spiritual, moral and physical uplift of the people in the different places in which he lived and labored.

As a pastor Brother Lee was gentle, kind and sympathetic. This was especially true in his ministrations to the sick and the sorrowing. His people loved him.

As a husband and father, I never knew a man that was more devoted to his family.

As a friend, Brother Lee was true, loyal and faithful. Because of his absolute sincerity, his positive convictions, his sometimes blunt candor and his loyalty to what he considered the truth, Brother Lee was not popular in the common acceptance of that term. And yet the people he served loved him devotedly. To an acquaintance he sometimes appeared cold, hard, even stolid, but to those like myself who were admitted to the inner circle of his friendship, he was kind, gentle, big-hearted and true.

Personally, Brother Lee meant much to me. My real acquaintance with him began when I followed him at Rowland in December, 1915. He not only left everything in good shape for the new preacher, but helped me very much in getting hold of the work. Four years later in December, 1919, I was sent to the Mt. Gilead Circuit, where he lived at that time. There being closely and intimately associated together for four years our acquaintance grew into love and friendship.

Brother Lee served the following charges in the North Carolina Conference: McDowell Circuit 1881-82, Forest City in 1883-85, Matthews Circuit in 1886-88, Lenoir in 1889, Weldon in 1890, Tarboro in 1891, Murfreesboro in 1892, Carthage Circuit in 1893-95, Maxton in 1896, Kinston in 1897-99, Gibson Circuit in 1900-02, Ridge-way Circuit in 1903.

At the Annual Conference, 1903, he retired from active work on account of throat trouble for two years, living in Laurinburg during this time. He returned to the active work in 1906 and served

Dunn in 1906-07, Mt. Gilead Circuit in 1908-11, Rowland Circuit in 1912-15, Kittrell Circuit in 1916-18.

At the Annual Conference in Goldsboro, December, 1918, he was granted the superannuate relation and went to live with his daughter Ida (Mrs. Vernon Andrews), at Mt. Gilead, N. C.

He lived there until 1926, when he went to live with another one of his daughters, Mrs. James T. Beason, at Shelby, N. C. Here among older friends and near his boyhood home he lived pleasantly, though sometimes suffering intense pain, until his Saviour called him home to live with Him.

His funeral was conducted by Rev. E. K. McLarty, pastor of Central Church, Shelby, N. C., assisted by Rev. R. M. Courtney, Presiding Elder of the Gastonia District, Rev. W. L. Ingle and Rev. Zeno Wall, pastor of the Baptist Church.

MRS. L. E. THOMPSON

By T. G. Vickers

Louella Vines McCrary was born in the home of John W. and Drucilla Leonard McCrary at Thomasville, N. C., December 14, 1861, and died at Lexington, November 24, 1932. Her body lies sleeping beside that of her husband in the cemetery near her last home. The funeral was conducted by the writer, assisted by the Revs. J. B. Hurley and J. E. Abernethy. A year or two after her birth her parents moved to Lexington, where the child grew up. Attending private schools in Lexington she was prepared for higher training and later attended Thomasville Seminary. Her education, therefore, was far above the average of women in her time. She took full advantage of her opportunity and maintained through her whole life habits of reading which kept her abreast of public events. Her father was county treasurer for many years. Upon completion of her education, she assisted him in keeping the records of his office and thus became one of the pioneer women in business. On February 14, 1883, she was married to the Rev. L. E. Thompson, who had been pastor at Lexington the preceding two years, but who, in order to meet an emergency in his father's affairs, had located and was living on the farm in Alamance County near Oaks, N. C., in Orange County. Here they lived for nearly three years. Their first child, Edna, was born while they lived there. In 1885 Brother Thompson was readmitted into the Conference and sent to Hillsboro Circuit, where his wife began her long service as mistress of a Methodist parsonage. During the years that followed, four other children were born: Vera, who died as a girl, Hartwell, John and Earl, all of whom, with Edna, survive.

Mrs. Thompson was a woman of keen intelligence. She enjoyed to the fullest extent all those contacts with cultured people which are dear to the heart of an educated person and which a minister's wife is privileged so frequently to have. She never slowed up the habits of reading formed early in life and was constantly browsing in the fields of literature as long as she lived. Newspapers and magazines kept her in touch with the currents of life in the world at large, while books of every type fit to read were her constant companions. She maintained a variety of interests in the world immediately about her and was so well informed that she could talk interestingly on the widest range of subjects. Few, indeed, were the topics of general conversation to which she could not make some contribution of value. Her viewpoints were always fresh. In the wide spaces of her intellect she never went stale. She was, therefore, a most interesting personality.

Preachers' wives have opportunities to form friendships given to few women. Blessed indeed is the woman, equipped for such a position, whose lot it is to preside as the center of a minister's home. Mrs. Thompson was eminently well fitted for such a lot. As a magnet attracts steel, so she drew to herself the choice spirits among the women where her husband's ministry placed her. This writer recalls Mrs. Thompson's last visit to an Annual Conference. It was at Henderson two years ago. Going on a mission for a brother preacher in distress, he passed through Lexington. As was always his custom when in that region he stopped to see his beloved friends in the Thompson home. Mrs. Thompson was planning to take the bus next day for Henderson, though still somewhat in doubt as to whether she was physically able to make such a journey. This writer spent the night in the home and accompanied by Mrs. Thompson left next morning at five o'clock for the seat of the Conference at Henderson, where her husband had been pastor for the four years 1917-20. She had been invited to visit Mrs. J. D. Cooper, one of the choicest women God ever made, typical of the group of Mrs. Thompson's intimate friends there and elsewhere. Such women appreciated this woman and loved her most tenderly. It is noteworthy that during this year Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. J. H. Bridgers, another of the noblest of the Henderson group, have gone together to join the heavenly host. The subject of this sketch drew such women to her naturally. They rejoiced in the congenial atmosphere of her presence. Intimate friends of such type are incontrovertible testimony to the worth of any person who attracts them.

Wisdom was one of the fine possessions of this woman. She knew when to speak and when not to speak. She knew what to say. Many are the delicate situations a preacher's wife is called upon to meet. Mrs. Thompson was equal to the emergency on all occasions. She never antagonized, yet she always had her own convictions and did her own thinking. Her conclusions were usually sound. She was a guide and counsellor to whom her husband and children never looked in vain.

Called upon to be active in the various organizations of the church, as is the case with most preachers' wives, she nevertheless kept her hand always upon her own home. As a wife and mother she gave herself without stint to the needs of her family. The members of her household were a group of friends. The atmosphere she created was ideal for the development of her children, physically, mentally and spiritually.

Mrs. Thompson's religious life was not of the showy sort, but it was none the less genuine, rich and deep. She placed her thinking, purposes and activities on the highest plane. She was human, gifted with keen insight, blessed with a genuine sense of humor, and withal a true follower of the Lord Jesus Christ. She has said goodbye to those she loved who remain on the earth. We acknowledge her farewell with sadness at her going, but with hearts filled with gratitude that she has lived and still lives.

MRS. E. H. DAVIS

By T. A. Sikes

In the quietude of that old historic and sentimental home that is dear to the heart of Methodism, surrounded by stately elms, blooming flowers and green shrubbery, the Green Hill house, with those who loved her most at her bedside, Mrs. Edward H. Davis, wife of that tall oak of the North Carolina Conference, Rev. Edward H. Davis, left a world of sorrow and a bed of long suffering and slipped away to her Father's home in the early hours of the evening of May 23, 1932.

Since the death of a son, Dr. Charles W. Davis, a young physician of great promise, on July 2, 1931, Mrs. Davis had been confined to her room practically all the time. Not strong in health at the time of her son's death, the shock and grief at his going was more than the frail body could bear, and from that time until her release she just waited for the loving God to take her so that she could be with the loved one over there.

Before her marriage she was Miss Mattie Dodamead, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dodamead of High Point, and was a devoted and hard working member of the Baptist church of that city. She and Brother Davis were married in the First Baptist church of High Point on the second day of December, 1891, and lived and prayed and worked together for over 41 years. One year after her marriage she joined the Methodist Church. Five children came to bless their lives and to enrich the communities in which they lived: Dr. Charles W., George D., Laura R., Mrs. V. D. Sale and Alberta, all of whom are still living with the exception of Dr. Charles. Brother Davis is still with us to carry on the work of the kingdom of God as an honored superannuate member of the North Carolina Conference.

Mrs. Davis, measured by the highest standards, was a Christian and left the impress of her life upon the heart of the communities in which she had lived. Many are strong in some of the Christian graces, but she was strong at all of the essential points. As the wife of an itinerant Methodist minister, she did her part and was a leader in every good work.

The immense throng of warm personal friends who came from many of the charges which Brother Davis had served bear testimony to her goodness and to her faithfulness. From Franklin-ton, Oxford, Warrenton, Zebulon and other places came beautiful flowers, a silent tribute to the esteem in which she was held in those places.

The funeral of this good woman, in charge of the writer, assisted by Revs. A. D. Wilcox, F. S. Love, C. F. Read and L. T. Singleton, was conducted from the home on Wednesday morning, May 25, and the tired body of this good woman sleeps beneath that beautiful magnolia tree in the family burying ground located just a few hundred yards from the old house where the first Methodist Conference in America was held.

When Brother Davis was pastor at Warrenton he and his good wife took into their home a young man whom they had met in eastern North Carolina and who was anxious to study for the ministry, but was unable without financial assistance to do so. They kept him as a son for two years while he attended the Graham school in that place. He afterwards went to Trinity College, and today he is one of the useful members of the North Carolina Conference—Rev. L. T. Singleton—and it was he who paid a loving tribute to her whom he said had been a mother to him.

May God richly bless Brother Davis and the children who are still waiting to go.

SESSIONS OF THE NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE

The North Carolina Conference was set off from the Virginia Conference in May, 1836, and in 1850, and again in 1870, North Carolina territory in the South Carolina Conference was transferred to this Conference. In 1890 North Carolina territory in the Holston Conference and in the Virginia Conference, except that beyond the Chowan River, was transferred to the North Carolina Conference, and the Conference was divided into the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Conferences. In 1894 the remaining North Carolina territory in the Virginia Conference was transferred to the North Carolina Conference.
